

FIRM: Mar Vista's purpose is to create value for our investors by generating unique risk-adjusted returns that exceed the opportunity cost of investing in a passive index. Our mission requires a conviction to be different in how we think, behave and invest.

PHILOSOPHY: We invest in high quality growth businesses trading at discounts to fair value. Specifically, we look for competitively advantaged companies with abundant opportunities to grow and reinvest capital at high rates of return. We also seek management teams with a proven ability to allocate capital in ways that maximize shareholder value.

STRATEGY: The Focus strategy seeks long-term capital appreciation by investing in a portfolio of 15-20 durable franchises that can grow excess returns on capital well into the future yet trade at attractive margins of safety. We believe the diversification found in a portfolio of 15-20 stocks provides ample opportunity for differentiated outcomes, while dampening the volatility inherent in more concentrated products.

Quarter Commentary:

For the third quarter, Mar Vista's Focus strategy returned +12.0% net of fees, underperforming the Russell 1000® Growth Index (+13.2%) and outperforming the S&P 500® Index (+8.9%). Positive stock selection and relative outperformance in healthcare, financials and consumer staples contributed to relative performance during the quarter, while real estate, industrials and consumer discretionary detracted from short-term results. Top contributors were Salesforce.com (+34.2%), NIKE (+28.3%), Apple (+27.2%), Berkshire Hathaway (+19.3%) and Amazon (+14.2%), while American Tower (-6.1%), Microchip Technology (-2.1%), Roper Technologies (+1.9%), Alphabet (+4.0%) and TransDigm Group (+7.5%) detracted from returns.

Equities continued their historic recovery with the best two-quarter performance since 2009. The broader stock market's extensive climb has been led by economic improvement and surging technology stocks. Consumer spending has recovered from abysmal levels and employment trends are improving rapidly. The buoyant financial summer ended with a correction in September after political and virus-related roadblocks emerged. Despite the late quarter decline, subdued interest rates are working in tandem with fiscal stimulus to elevate equity valuations. Disruptive technology companies with real or perceived exposure to digital payments, electric vehicles, ecommerce, cloud computing, or anything related to the stay-at-home economy continue to appreciate. Their outperformance largely reflects the uneven distribution of economic ramifications related to the pandemic. The forced economic shutdown has enabled digital companies to disproportionately benefit from essentially permanent changes in consumer behavior.

The merging of the Federal Reserve and Treasury stimulus programs is providing massive liquidity to support asset prices. These policies are designed to sustain economic activity by offsetting negative effects from the pandemic. With our portfolio's average discount to intrinsic value at 3%, we expect forward returns to closely correlate with our companies' 12-13% intrinsic value growth. We continue to deploy capital in serial compounders that are likely to emerge from the pandemic in stronger competitive positions.
